A meeting is called for this evening,
Sept. 30, of the legal voters of the village to act upon the question of electric lighting, after the contract with the White River Electric company expires.
The subject has been under consideration for several weeks and was referred to committee to investigate and report, which they are now prepared to do. Var-ious opinon are expressed, one of which is that the corporation should own and operate its own plant, which would call for steam power, there being on available power at hand. The adoption of this measure would necessitate a large expenditure and incur a debt. The present lease expires in a few months, and erly looking forward to report of com-mitte and action taken at the meeting.

KIDNAPPERS ARRESTED.

The Men Who Took a Pretty Girl Are

Captured. Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The abduc ors of Minnie Bepovia, a pretty fifteenyear-old Italian girl, are reported to have been captured at Scottsville, thirteen miles south of this city.

From what is learned, the girl, badly frightened, was with them at the time they fell into the clutches of the police. Much mystery and speculation sur-ounds the affair. From the stories told by eye-witnesses it appears that four unknown men seized Miss Bepovia as she was leaving her home early yesterday, and, throwing her into a closed cab, which was apparently in waiting, rapidly disappeared.

An alarm was immediately given. which resulted in the apprehension of Vermont Mountains. Discussion is frequently overheard which shows that people do not remem-ber either actually or comparatively the heights of mountains some of whose summits they see every clear day. A discussion of that sort tecently over-heard by the writer in which the only point that all the persons taking part in it were sure of was that Mount Manafield is the highest elevation in the state, lowing names of Vermont mountains with the figures of their respective heights arranged in the order of height. Yours for good very large and fashionable audience, to william L. Ward, national committeewhat has been described by those who have seen the splendld comedy, David the national political situation was dis-Hughes' nomination for the presidency

In this instance the performance nere will undoubtedly prove a source of infinite delight, and judging from the demand already expressed for reserved seats, the engagement will mark a new aposh in local theatrical events.

The presence of Mr. Ward on the very first day after the president's return from Oyster Bay is looked upon as of no little significance, particularly in view of the meeting of the New York state committee, where there will be much committee, where there will be much informal discussion, even if there is no action with reference to Governor Hughes as a presidential candidate. That the president is deeply interested in keeping hold of the New York delegation himself in order that it may be used, presumably, for Taft in the end, is generally believed in this city. The executive offices of the White House, which have been practically deserted during the past three and a half months, are now crowded with government officials, legislators and sightseers. Senator Curtis made an appointment to officially invite President Roosevelt to address the trans-Mississippi congress at Muskogee, Indian Territory, Nov. 18-

Senator Calvet's mission is at present purely informal. He was presented to the president by Dr. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, Mr. Roosevelt expressing his interest in the subject. Just how the plan is to be worked out is at present under consideration.

The senator added that it was not settled that Taft would have the state with Roosevelt out of it. He said that Hughes had considerable support among North Dakotans. Senator Jonathan P. Bourne of Oregon who has been sending out matter from Deer Park, Md., in favor of the third term this summer, is out of town. He is as insistent as ever that the president neceed himseif. Last night the senator gave one of his justly celebrated dinners, Secretary Metcalf and Postmasterteneral Meyer being present.
